Getting To Know You:

Overview:

- Digital mascots for each venue
- Axe throwing, arcade, restaurant, laser tag, parties
- Reusable graphics
- Training videos – animated intro / training
- 5-year-olds will see this (no scary, bloody, gore, etc.)
- Indifferent to 2d/3d -> don't sandbag future classes, similar style, cohesiveness
- No running, no getting in the tank, no climbing on things
- Biggest profit point: laser tag
- Getting people to the facility

What does success look like once the project is out?

- Engagement
- Something easy (mp4 probably)

What happened in your business that sparked this project?

- Need – growth and development

How can I help to get you there?

What do you want from me?

Is that going to solve your problem?

What made you contact us?

Who is the target audience (consider age, gender, occupation, relation to client, etc.)?

- Local audience
 - Adults in leagues
 - Birthday parties for kids
 - High schoolers

- Tourist audience
 - Grand Canyon
 - Tour groups
 - Bring in tourists traveling on i40
- College audience (outside of sororities and frats)
 - Lumberjack axe aesthetic
 - Get more college students in there
- Possibly target women more specifically

What is the overall message/mood of the piece (consider important keywords / buzzwords)?

- Keywords (fun, safe, good service, worthwhile to spend the money, novelty-phase for axe throwing, warm, fuzzy, customer dedication,

What areas of your business/services would you like us to highlight the most?

- Axe throwing & laser tag

Is there any important information from your website (or elsewhere) that you need or want incorporated in the piece?

Our project requires us to include 3 different motions in the piece. Are there any in particular that you would like to have incorporated or highlighted?

- More guidance later
- Blank canvas
- Can send emails outside of class (subject: NAU VC 345 Animation Class)

How do these proposed pieces fit in with your current branding, message, and goals? In other words, are these pieces intended to push the company in a new direction, accentuate an already strong aspect of the company, or bring to light an overlooked aspect (or anything else)?

Do you have any questions for us or concerns we can address before we begin brainstorming for this project?
